B a n g a l o r e.

Sir,

Subject:- Regulation No. III of 1904 or the Societies Registration Regulation, 1904.

I have the honour to state that Section 4 of the above - Regulation enacts that for the registration of a society a fee of twenty rupees or such smaller fee as the Government may from time to time direct shall be paid. The Government have in their Notification No. 383/Regis. 20-06-2 dated 16th April 1907 fixed the fee at Rs 10/-. It is evident that this low fee was fixed as there were very few societies in those days and the Government perhaps wished to extend the benefits of registration to as many societies as possible.

Not available in the Record

(2) We have now got 200 societies on our register and the benefits of registration under the Regulation have become widely known. According to Section 3 of the Societies Registration Act of 1860 which corresponds to our Regulation and which is in force in British India, the maximum fee prescribed is Rs 50/-. Moreover, an appreciable portion of the time of this office is taken in examining the documents and getting them corrected. In these circumstances, the fee of Rs 10/- seems to be low and I request that Government may be moved to fix it at Rs 20/-. This enhancement will not involve any amendment of the Regulation; It will be enough if a if a Notification is issued superseding the old Notification referred to above.

I have the honour to be.

Your most obedient servant.
